

Noteworthy from North:

Chartric "Chuck" Terrell Darby (born October 22, 1975 in North, South Carolina) is a football defensive tackle for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League. He played college football at South Carolina State.

Darby attended North High School in North, South Carolina and was a student and a letterwinner in football. In football, he was a four-year letterman and was an All-State selection.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, CHARTRIC "CHUCK D" DARBY, a 1993 graduate of North High School and a graduate of South Carolina State University distinguished himself by playing defensive line for the World Champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the 2003 Super Bowl; and

WHEREAS, CHUCK DARBY has through the years displayed the character, humility, and honesty that were impressed upon him during his youth by his parents and the community of North, South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, CHUCK DARBY has acted as a worthy ambassador of North, South Carolina and proudly proclaims and recalls his experiences and lessons learned while growing up in this community;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT PROCLAIMED BY THE NORTH TOWN COUNCIL, NORTH, SOUTH CAROLINA

That October 22, 2003, which is Chuck Darby's birthday, be known as CHUCK DARBY DAY IN THE TOWN OF North, South Carolina and that all its citizen's join us in congratulating him on his life and career and wish him continual success;

SIGNED AND ADOPTED THE TENTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 2003.